TXGenWeb: Texas Genealogy & History (The USGenWeb Project) is a good resource for information on all parts of Texas.

The Portal to Texas History: University of North Texas Libraries

These links may be helpful if your research leads to some of the neighboring cities and counties around Dallas:

- Arlington Genealogical Society
- Bedford Public Library - has a good list of resource links
- Collin County Genealogical Society
- Dallas County Clerk - Source for vital records
- Denison Genealogical Society
- East Texas Genealogical Society - Representing Anderson, Gregg, Henderson, Panola, Rusk and Smith counties
- Elis County Genealogical Society
- Family History Center - 10701 Lake Highlands Dr, Dallas, Texas. Phone: 214-342-2642
- Fort Worth Public Library - has an excellent list of Genealogical Societies throughout Texas
- Fort Worth Genealogical Society
- Grayson County TxGenWeb page
- Mesquite Historical & Genealogical Society: a non-profit organization dedicated to the preservation and publication of historical and genealogical information concerning eastern Dallas County, Texas. It is an organization which will hold two genealogical seminars each year, publishes a monthly newsletter (The Twig) and a biannual publication (The Mesquite Tree) each June and December
- Mid-Cities Genealogical Society - Our mission is to assist the public and our members in the study of genealogy and to encourage the libraries of the Mid-Cities area to obtain genealogical books and other records of genealogical interest.
- Rockwall County Genealogical Society
- Rockwall County TXGenWeb: Rockwall County was formed in 1873 from Kaufman County so if you do not find what you are looking for prior to that year on this website, please check the Kaufman County TXGenWeb Project Website

- Tarrant County TXGenWeb: This website focuses on genealogy and history pertaining to Tarrant County, Texas and is part of the TXGenWeb Project.